

LMAX Exchange widens distribution of its TY3 liquidity by adding access via PrimeXM

London UK, 29 April 2015 – LMAX Exchange, the FCA regulated MTF for global FX and the UK's fastest growing technology firm, announced that it will widen the distribution of liquidity from its Tokyo-based matching engine via PrimeXM.

The announcement comes after PrimeXM has completed the setup of an institutional grade hosting infrastructure in TY3, with XCore execution engine and MT4 servers co-located and cross-connected to LMAX Exchange liquidity.

Through the use of PrimeXM's hosting framework, clients are able to access the unique no 'Last Look' liquidity from LMAX Exchange at ultra-low latency and benefit from robust, reliable and consistent execution, whether connecting via FIX or MT4, as a white label solution or through their own MT4 server.

This is the latest step in expanding client access to LMAX Exchange liquidity into new regions and trading segments.

Richard Bartlett, Head of Global Sales at PrimeXM, said: "This partnership demonstrates both firms' on-going commitment to extending our market leading services throughout the globe. Any operation that has a presence in the Asia Pacific region can now take advantage of this unique relationship, by connecting to LMAX Exchange liquidity in TY3 at sub-millisecond speeds via the use of PrimeXM's world renowned bridging and XCore technology. We have worked very closely with LMAX Exchange on many successful projects over the last few years, and as both firms share the same passion for being leaders in our respective fields, it made perfect sense to bolster our relationship further by establishing this high quality offering in TY3."

Andreas Wigstrom, Head of International Development at LMAX Exchange, added: "Institutional traders in Asia Pacific are an important growth segment for us, and we are excited to offer them exchange quality execution and access to our streaming, firm limit order liquidity from top tier banks and financial institutions, via PrimeXM's leading technology and dedicated infrastructure in TY3."

About PrimeXM:

PrimeXM is a Swiss based technology provider, recognized globally as a leader in bridge aggregation and institutional grade hosting solutions, providing bespoke ultra-low latency set-ups for FX Brokers, Banks, LPs, Hedge Funds and Asset Management firms. Their main offering, the "XCore", is a state of the art execution engine, co-located and cross-connected to over 50 tier-one LPs and industry leading market makers; allowing clients to facilitate connectivity at sub-millisecond speeds, to virtually any liquidity sources and front end trading platforms.

PrimeXM's technology offering enables brokers to compose, customize and distribute their own liquidity to other entities as well as individuals. Their highly advanced trading software is coupled with a dedicated data-centre infrastructure in Equinix LD4, NY4 and TY3, which they fully own and manage internally. This results in superior levels of system performance, reliability and scalability that few others can compete with.
