

LMAX Exchange named "Best FX Trading Platform - ECN / MTF"

London, UK - 13 February 2013 - LMAX Exchange is pleased to announce that it has won the 2013 Wall Street Letter (WSL) Institutional Trading Award for "Best FX Trading Platform - ECN/MTF". In gaining this prestigious accolade, LMAX Exchange triumphed over established industry heavyweights: FXall, Knight Hotspot FX and Bloomberg Tradebook.

The award was presented during a gathering of FX industry luminaries at the Cipriani Hotel in New York City on February 13, and received by Steve Toland, Head of Exchange Strategy and Barbara Pozdorovkina, Head of Corporate Development for LMAX Exchange.

The WSL Institutional Trading Awards recognise excellence among providers to the institutional trading industry, awarding exchanges, brokerages and financial technology companies for achievements and innovation throughout the previous year.

David Mercer, CEO of LMAX Exchange commented:

"We are delighted to have won the 2013 WSL 'Best FX Trading Platform - ECN/MTF' - and it is all the more gratifying to know that we were chosen over the illustrious FX industry stalwarts of FXall, Knight Hotspot FX and Bloomberg Tradebook.

The WSL Award confirms for us that the institutional market has now discovered that the LMAX Exchange model really is the most efficient and cost effective way to trade very liquid products like spot FX.

In the coming months and years we look forward to more institutional participants discovering the unique benefits of exchange quality execution, total pre and post-trade transparency and the level playing field for all that LMAX Exchange delivers."
